PACIFIC COAST.

Probable Uprising of the Yaquis and Mayos.

THE GOVERNOR MUCH WORSE.

An Interesting Legal Point in the Ortiz Contest—Attempted Escape from Folsom.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD

TUCSON, September 5.—A semi-official report from Hermosillo states that there is every probability of a serious uprising on the Yaqui and Mayo rivers among the warlike factions of the tribes engaged in the war of a year ago. For some time there has been an engineering party surveying along these two rivers, and preparations have been made for its colonization. The Indians think that this land, which has ever been held by them, is to be wrested from them by the Mexican Government, and, therefore, their warlike preparations.

SETTLERS IN DANGER.

Numerous families who have located along the rivers since the close of the Yaqui war would be exterminated in case of an uprising.

OFFICIAL ACTION NECESSARY.

It is probable that a Federal force will be sent in at once to awe the Indians. Since the execution of Cajeme there has been no recognized chief of the two tribes.

GOVERNOR BARTLETT.

He is Getting Weaker Day by Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—Governor Bartlett is slightly worse to-day. Dr. Buckel issued a bulletin at noon stating that his respiration increased from 20 to 26; temperature, 100.

STEADILY SINKING.

There is no new or special feature to record in Governor Bartlett's condition. From the best that can be learned he is weaker to-night than he was this afternoon, and was weaker this afternoon than he was this morning or yesterday.

OFFICIAL BULLETINS—6 P. M.

The following are the only official bulletins about Governor Bartlett, issued since late this afternoon:

6 P. M.—Slept quietly from 2:15 until nearly 4 P. M. Awoke free from delirum and has been rational ever since. During the delirum of last night and this morning his mind seemed to be dwelling on public business entirely and when his brother called this evening he desired him to see that everything that was right should be done and that all his business should be properly attended to. Is now awake and resting comfortably.

AT 10 P. M.

10 P. M.—Slept quietly from 7 till 8:30, then awoke and took his nourishment. Has slept off and on since that time. Is now quiet and does not seem delirious. Pulse, respiration and temperature same as last bulletin.

MIDNIGHT—NO CHANGE.

Advices since midnight indicate no marked change in the Governor's condition.

THE ORTIZ ESTATE.

An Interesting Decision for the Legal Fraternity.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—In the matter of the settlement of the estate, in this city, of the wealthy Spaniard, Celedonia Ortiz, who died lately in Madrid, Judge Coffey has decided a point of much interest which had been made the subject of elaborate argument. Miss Julia Ortiz, an unmarried daughter, had obtained letters of administration here though Senor Vincent Cagigal had been appointed executor in the will. He appeared here lately and petitioned for a revocation of the letters granted to Miss Ortiz on the ground that there had been no proper and formal hearing of her original application for the same.

THE CLERK FIXED THE DAY.

It appears from the files that in accordance with custom, the day for the hearing of Miss Ortiz' application had been fixed by the clerk of the court instead of by the judge. The civil code enjoins this duty upon the clerk in all cases of domestic wills, but in cases of authenticated foreign wills the code provides that the court or Judge must appoint the time for hearing.

A LEGAL QUIBBLE.

The section of the Code touching domestic wills also imposed this duty on the Court or Judge down to 1881, when it was changed, so as to devolve the duty upon the Clerk. It is generally believed by lawyers that when this change was made by the Legislature a like provision in the section on foreign wills was overlooked, or it, too, would have been altered; while some contend that there were deliberate reasons for not changing the text of the last section.

COFFEY'S OPINION.

Judge Coffey held that the section as to foreign wills means just what it says; that the Court or Judge must fix the day for hearing.

FURTHER DISPUTES.

This, however, does not settle the contest between the foreign executor and Miss Ortiz. The latter will apply again for letters of administration, with the will annexed, and the respective merits of her application and that of Senor Cagigal will yet be the subject of inquiry, argument and decision.

WORTH FIGHTING FOR.

The value of the entire estate is estimated at over $1,000,000.

"CALLED BACK."

A Fruitless Attempt to Escape from Folsom.

SACRAMENTO, September 5.—A San Francisco prisoner named Frank Moran, serving five years, with nineteen months to finish his sentence, ran away from the guards, while at work on the Folsom Prison farm to-day.

THE DOGS SCENTED HIM.

A large force of guards, aided by the prison bloodhounds, followed the trail into the river and back again, until finally the true trail was struck, and the fugitive was found under a projecting rock that afforded a perfect concealment.

SEGHERS' REMAINS.

The Date of Their Arrival Uncertain.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—A letter received by a Jesuit Father in this city states that the body of the late Archbishop Seghers, who was foully murdered, still lies at St. Michael's, in the Greek church here, encased in a metallic casket. Owing to the recent great heat, the ice had dissolved, and it is believed that the body is rapidly decomposing.

NO TIME FIXED.

There is much doubt as to the time of the arrival of the remains at Victoria. They might reach there in a few months, or not till next year, according to circumstances.

ONLY EMBALMED BODIES SHIPPED.

There is a provision necessitating the thorough embalming of bodies before they can be taken aboard American cruisers, and until this is accomplished it is feared that the body of his grace cannot be shipped. A Jesuit priest continually remains at St. Michael's in charge of the body.

THE VETERANS' HOME.

Discussion as to the Disposal of the Building.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—The directors of the Veterans' Home held a meeting at Yountville yesterday. There is a diversity of opinion among the directors as to what should be done with the Home should the government establish one of its own. Some of the directors want it turned over to the State, others would vote to sell it and divide the proceeds among the various Grand Army posts of the State to be used for benevolent purposes, while still others among the directors are opposed to donating the Home to the National Government or selling it.

FOR THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS.

They think that the government is perfectly able to build a Home by itself and take care of the old soldiers, and they would retain the present place for widows and orphans of soldiers as wards of the Grand Army of California. In Ohio that has been done, also in Illinois and several other States.

A TEXAS REFUGEE.

His Captor Offered to Settle the Matter for $500.

PORTLAND, Ogn., September 5.—William Kauffman, a boot and shoe salesman of this city, whom it was stated a few days ago was wanted in Lampasas county, Tex., on a charge of perjury, makes a public statement to-day that the man calling himself Sheriff Reynolds from Lampasas county had no warrant or requisition or other legal instrument for his arrest. He also charges that Reynolds told him that the matter could be compromised for $500 and actually borrowed $20 from him.

KAUFFMAN IN ILL-HEALTH.

Kauffman has been confined to bed by illness until to-day, which fact was published as a reason why Reynolds did not take his alleged prisoner with him. Certain it is that Reynolds went away on the steamer to San Francisco, and although asking the police to keep an eye on Kauffman, left no warrant or requisition, so that he is still a free man.

THE BENSON SURVEYORS.

Reconsideration of Some of the Demurrers.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—Before Justice Field and Judges Sawyer and Hoffman to-day United States Attorney Carey reopened the arguments in the Benson survey cases. He claims that the decision of Justice Field last week does not apply to four cases, those of Benson, Glover, Magfinnis and Reilly, as when the demurrers were sustained it was because no conspiracy was alleged in the fourth clause of the indictments. General Carey argued that a conspiracy was set forth in the fourth count of the indictments.

THE MOTION DENIED.

The motion for rehearing made by the United States Attorney was denied, but the court ordered the issuance of a venire, summoning sixty citizens to appear in the United States Circuit Court, Monday next, from which a grand jury should be drawn to take in hand the cases of Benson and associates at once and prepare new indictments.

THE TRAIN ROBBERY.

Discharge of Two of the Defendants—Sheehan Held.

TUCSON, September 5.—Joe Brooke and Dick Johnson, arrested at Stein's Peak for complicity in the train robbery, were discharged to-day, there not being sufficient evidence against them. Larry Sheehan, arrested at the same time, has, however, been held to await further examination.

Sensible Santa Cruz.

SANTA CRUZ September 5.—Sixty thousand dollars worth of municipal bonds, issued for public improvements, were awarded this evening to the Bank of Santa Cruz County at par. The bonds are to pay 5 per cent.

All Caught.

COLTON, September 5.—Sheriff Cole came in this afternoon with the remaining two of the San Bernardino jail breakers. They have all been caught and safely housed in their former abode.

Smallpox in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 5.—A case of smallpox was reported to the health office to-day and the patient, a young woman, was removed to the hospital.

The Calico Fire.

COLTON, September 5.—The losses sustained by the Calico fire are now estimated at $75,000.

Now that his queue is gone, there is not much likelihood of his attempting any such scheme.

A THEATER FIRE.

One Hundred Persons Immolated in England.

ONLY ONE GALLERY EXIT.

The Unfortunate Victims Wedged Together and Slowly Roasted to Death.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.]

LONDON, September 5.—A theater at Exeter took fire this morning during the performance of "Romany Rye." The occupants of the pit, after an awful struggle escaped but many of them are greatly injured. There was only one exit from the gallery, and the crush there was terrific. Scores were trodden under foot and suffocated. The fire escape was brought to the window and many inside were rescued. Sixty corpses have been removed. The mortality is estimated at one hundred.

ORIGIN OF THE CONFLAGRATION.

There are various reports as to the origin of the fire. It is only certain that the flames broke out in the scenery shifters department. Those who escaped say that the special exit was properly opened. The fire brigade arrived a few minutes after the breaking out of the flames but the efforts of firemen were without avail. There were several thrilling scenes.

A WEIRD SPECTACLE.

The fire blazed fiercely, lighting the whole city, and people were soon flocking to the scene in thousands inquiring for their friends. The scene inside the theatre when the fire broke out was an awful one.

PANIC-STRICKEN.

Some men implored the audience to be calm, but it was impossible to check the frantic mob. The theatre hose was brought into use in a few minutes, but had little effect on the flames. The actors and actresses were taken from windows with the aid of ladders. They lost everything except what they wore at the time.

SIXTY CORPSES RECOVERED.

Up to the present time 60 bodies have been recovered; they are almost unrecognizable. Thirty injured survivors have been taken to the hospital. The fire burned throughout the night and the search for bodies proceeds slowly. In many cases every shred of clothing is burned off and the bodies look black and raw.

THIRTY ARE WOMEN.

The majority of the victims were men and boys, and about thirty women were burned. When the fire started the drop scene was lowered to prevent draughts, but some of the actors opened the door to escape, causing the fire to burst through the drop scene and to ignite the gallery.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

The flames overtook the people, who were wedged in an immovable mass, and roasted them to death. Many who were rescued alive died soon after they were brought out of the burning building. The occupants of the dress circle escaped without serious harm.

HEARTHS MADE DESOLATE.

A telegram from Exter, at 5 o'clock this morning, says that the fire is under control. People distracted with anxiety are standing about the streets in the neighborhood of the theater in search of friends who attended last night's performance, and the hospitals are besieged by anxious inquirers for friends. Twenty badly burned persons who were admitted to the hospital died a few minutes after they were received.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

The structure burned was the Theatre Royal, and was built after the latest designs, and was elaborately finished, being considered one of the prettiest in the Kingdom. There was a full house to-night, and everything was all right until the end of the third act, at 10:30, when the drop scene fell, and in a moment the whole stage was

A MASS OF FIRE.

A wild panic ensued. The occupants of the stalls, pit and dress circle escaped, after dreadful crushing, many being badly bruised.

THE ACTORS ALL SAFE.

The actors and actresses were in their dressing rooms when the fire began and all escaped. The fire originated in the flies and spread rapidly, filling the theater with dense smoke. The occupants of the upper circle and galleries rushed to the windows

SCREAMING FRANTICALLY.

Many jumped from the windows and were injured and others were rescued with the aid of ladders from the verandahs.

ENGLISH EDITORIALS.

Leading Bailies on the Gathering at Ennis.

LONDON, September 5.—The Post regards the result at Ennis with lively satisfaction.

The Telegraph says: "Seldom even in the history of Irish agitation has a greater fiasco been witnessed. The imposing Nationalist array had to sneak off into a field out of the way of the police to hold a meeting until dispersed by a small troop of Hussars."

The News says: "It is to the good sense of the Irish people and their leaders that the credit for a peaceful issue of the day is due. Both parties did their duty and both may claim the victory. Only the authors of the proclamation are defeated and rendered ridiculous."

DETROIT, September 5.—To-day's game was characterized by heavy hitting at opportune moments by both clubs, while the fielding on both sides was wretched. White fumbled nearly everything that came his way and Hanlan let a grounder get by him that cost him two runs. Sullivan's muff of two easy flies and Burn's fumble in the third, contributed three earned runs for the home team. In the seventh, a single by Clarkson, Pettit, Sullivan and Anson, a three bagger by Ryan and a wild throw by Thompson yielded four runs, three of them earned. Attendance, 8000. Score: Detroits, 7; Chicago, 11.

BOSTON VS. PHILADELPHIA.

PITTSBURG VS. INDIANAPOLIS.

PITTSBURG, September 5.—To-day's game was devoid of interest until the last inning, when, by a great streak of batting and sharp base running, the home team made five runs, four of them earned. Score: Pittsburg, 5; Indianapolis, 4.

To All Concerned.

The contractor, Mr. Burlingame, who is at work on the massive levee along the water front of the Seitz Tract, is under bonds to have the work completed by November the 15th next. Those wishing to secure lots cheap had better buy before that time, as the prices are then bound to ndvance. Russell, Cox & Co., 132 West First street.

How sad to see one gifted with youth and beauty, a pleasant home, surrounded by loving friends, and everything that makes life desirable and enjoyable, fading away day by day, with no hope of release save in death. It was only a slight cold at first. A single dose of Frese's Hamburg Tea would have removed the obstruction, restored the circulation, and given back to society one of its brightest ornaments.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1887.

What is Democracy?

Republican papers are "still harping on my daughter" in the matter of the attitude of the Democracy on the question of revision of the tariff. "Consistency, thou art a jewel!" is, of course, the point raised, and the absence of this gem is alleged as regards the party. The major premise is false in the syllogism, and this being the case, of course no true conclusion is possible. Democracy is free trade. The Pennsylvania Democrats favor protection. Therefore they are not consistent Democrats. This is the usual course of reasoning. The San Francisco Chronicle says: "In Iowa and Pennsylvania the Democratic conventions declare in favor of oppressed Ireland, but only one of these declares for oppressed labor in America." It is not clear what the objection raised is precisely. Has the journal referred to any half latent Know-nothing proclivities, that she disapproves of sympathy expressed for Ireland?

Tariff for revenue with incidental protection to American industries is the Democratic doctrine of to-day. It has been the Democratic doctrine for a very long time past. That declaration of principles is almost coeval with the party itself. If in the past the party has been generally on the side of free trade it has not been for any inherent, essential truth in this policy as a principle endued with a right divine. It has been because the policy of free trade has been the best for the interests of the greatest number of American citizens. Free trade is not a principle. Protection to American manufactures is not a principle. These are at best expediencies. They are matters of policy, rather than of abstract right. It is not much to be wondered at that the minds of people befogged with Republican plausibilities, expediencies, love of office and party policies, cannot grasp these differences. It is hardly too much to say that the Republican party never did have a principle on which to base an action. The very grounds on which it was founded were this very matter of protective tariff and internal improvements. Both had their inspiration in the same source. The protecting of great manufacturing interests of various sorts, the building up of great monied monopolies—these were the nearest approach to principle ever made by the founders of that party. Of course these "declarations of principles" were not openly avowed. A great cry was raised about American labor as the ostensible purpose of the party. Internal improvements was another shibboleth of the party. This had a two-fold purpose: First, to hold the Western States—a low-tariff section at the time without an exception in ten thousand. There were no manufactories in the West. There was no hope of winning the South into the new party, hence the "peculiar institution" was made an object of attack. Second, high tariff would put money in the coffers of the New England manufacturers, and great internal improvements would make a market for their products.

The party has been true to their primary policy, and under it the monopolies and manufacturers have grown rich. When $27 per ton, or one hundred per cent. ad valorem duty on rails did not enrich the Republican leaders fast enough, large land grants and unheard of subsidies were voted to other staunch upholders of the party, in order to stimulate railroad building. So faithful has the party been to its policy that when the course of high tariff interfered with the project of enriching the people who backed the party that policy was discarded. The remission of the high tariff on wool, whereby the Western farmer and his labor were made to compete with sheepmen in foreign lands, and whereby the New England spinner was made rich, is a notable case in point. The tariff never added a nickel a day to the wages of the laborer in any industry. It made the rich proprietor richer, but left the poor wage-winner just where it found him.

Democracy is a system founded on immutable and eternal principles which cannot change or die. It is simply the administration of the Government by the people and for the people. Democracy is a decentralized administration of law, left to the neighborhood as much as can be. It means that a man's home is his castle, and the nearer to the point of application the laws are enforced, the better the application is. It means that a man should be able to litigate as far as circumstances will allow, among his neighbors, among the men who know him. Democracy means personal liberty in so far as this is consistent with the welfare of others. It holds that a man shall eat what he pleases, drink when he pleases, wear what cut of garment is to his taste, and do all things after the dictates of his own judgment until he steps over the sacred lines that bound a neighbor's rights. Democracy is a government for the greatest good of the greatest number, and not the opposite.

In reaching these high aims low tariff may be the means to take. If a high tariff on any commodity will help more true American citizens than a low one would, be prepared to see the Democratic party uphold that policy. Things o expediency and policy may change. As they change Democracy will note the new order of things and adjust itself to this. But if the party ever does favor high tariff it will not be in order to make the farmer pay two prices for his spade, the mason for his trowel, or the blacksmith for his hammer, while the millionaire's wife gets attar of roses free of tax. Whatever policy is adopted it will be one to protect American labor. The voice of the Democracy will always be with the masses, rather than with the classes; with the many laborers rather than with the monied few.

Many mistake in this matter. Democracy does not necessarily mean opposition to railroads. If railroads keep within their rights, and help the people, the Democracy is for them. To pick out one bit of ephemeral policy and call that Democracy is a rank political heresy. Democracy is catholic in its system, and is therefore many-sided. Henry George has just seized hold of one little piece of Democratic doctrine, and out of it he is trying to make a party. It is not broad enough to pin all one's hopes on. He will have to come back and adopt all the other many-sided truths of the party, and with these he should be able to accomplish some good.

MR. BLAINE, when in Ireland, declined to dine with the Lord Mayor of Dublin. The excuse was lack of time. At Homburg he finds plenty of time to hob-nob with H. R. H. Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, and heir apparent to the crown of England. Wait until the Plumed Knight gets back to the United States, where nearly every Irishman is a citizen and has a vote, and where three-fourths, or even more, of the natives of the "Tight Little Isle" remain aliens, and hear the blast upon his bugle-horn for the oppressed people in the Isle of the Saints. It makes a difference, "you know," whether one is seeking the suffrage of the dear people in America, or having a pleasant vacation among the gaming houses at Homburg.

MR. JOSEPH HATTON, editor of the Daily Telegraph, London, writes to General Ward, at Pasadena, that he received letters from his son, Captain Herbert Ward, the explorer in Africa, now with Stanley's relief expedition. Mr. Hatton speaks very highly of the Captain's conduct in Africa, and expresses very sanguine opinions as to the outcome of Stanley's expedition to relieve Emin Bey. He confirms the report already received from Africa contradicting the rumor that Stanley had fallen into a fatal ambush. He says that all well-informed African students consider the rumor as a canard invented by the slave-dealers with malicious motive. Gen. Ward's son was in excellent health and spirits when last heard from.

IT is certainly strongly corroborative of the new life and great industrial and material progress apparent all over the South that Charleston, since the earthquake, has rebuilt or repaired six thousand houses, and has built quite new nearly three hundred. The total expenses of these improvements is over $4,000,000. That would be a good showing in any city in the Union.

Now that the Republican leaders have given Mr. Darcy the position of Chief of Police, we presume that he will gracefully recognize the favor by ceasing to prosecute them through the courts for that thousand dollars reward they offered last fall and refused to pay.

NOT Los Angeles only is experiencing a big "boom" in real estate. A report is current that a few months ago Mr. Blaine bought a piece of land of thirty acres at Bar Harbor for $100 an acre, and that he has already refused $500 an acre for it. That is nearly equal to Pasadena or Monrovia.

Wood Ashes for Orchards.

Wood ashes are held in high esteem as a fertilizer by all scientific authorities. They are especially valuable to fruit growers, as may be seen from the following results of analyses furnished by Professor R. C. Kedzie, of the Agricultural College of Michigan. Professor Kedzie says: "When we consider how large an amount of vegetable matter is represented by a small amount of ash, the value of wood ashes for manure becomes evident. Thus ten pound of ash remains from the combustion of a cord of soft wood. One hundred pounds of ash represents the mineral matter of eighty-five bushels of wheat, eighty-five bushels of corn, or a ton of timothy hay. Eleven tons of gooseberries, grapes, blackberries, peaches or apples would each contain only 100 pounds of ash. Seven tons of cherries, plums or raspberries contain only 100 pounds of mineral matter.

"This gives some idea of the large amount of farm or orchard produce which will be represented by a small weight of mineral matter. But small as is the amount of ash, it is indispensible for the production of these crops, and must be present in the soil in available form before profitable cultivation is possible.

"If any soil is naturally deficient in any of the ash constituents, or has been impoverished by excessive cropping, the restoration of these materials in the form of wood ashes appears to be the natural and safe process, because they contain all the minerals of vegetable growth.

"Hard wood ashes were taken from my kitchen stove, the fuel being a mixture of beech and hard maple. Small fragments of charcoal were scattered through the ashes and a little sand and dirt adhered to the wood. Ninety-three per cent was soluble in dilute hydrochloric acid; the potash constituted 12½ per cent. One hundred pounds are worth $1.

"I have just received a letter from a very intelligent fruit grower in which he says: 'I can get pure, dry, hard wood ashes at $3.20 per ton here, and the same mixed with fish offal, half and half, at $5 per ton. Which is the best for pears, apples, grapes and berries, 'Fine Raw Bone' at $38, or pure ashes, or ashes and fish offal?' My answer is: 'Whatever you neglect to buy, do not fail to buy all the hard wood ashes your means will allow or your land needs, when you can get them for $3.20 a ton. If a man offers to sell you gold for the price of silver, buy the gold and sell it not.'

"Leached ashes were taken from a tannery in Lansing, the leaching having been carried as far as it was profitable to eighty-nine per cent soluble in acid. The potash was 1.6 per cent and phosphoric acid 6.8 per cent. Value of 100 pounds, 52 cents.

"If leached ashes are of enough value to be bought in car lots in Michigan and carried by rail to Buffalo to make commercial manures for Michigan farmers, then they are valuable enough to be used as measures at home, where they cost little or nothing, and the expense of double transportation is saved.

"Soft wood ashes were obtained from the ash pit of a planing mill at Lansing, being the ashes from plainings of pine, hemlock, fir and basswood lumber, with some soft coal ashes mixed in. It represents the ashes from sawmill and planing mill furnaces. Fifty per cent. of the ashes were soluble in acid, and so much soluble silica was in the ashes that when treated with acid it formed a jelly-like mass of precipitated silica, 12 per cent. potash and 4 per cent. phosphoric acid. One hundred pounds are worth 84 cents.

"I may say in general terms that the ashes of wood and land plants of every kind are of value as manure on every kind of soil which has been reduced by cropping; but the greatest benefit is shown upon sandy and porous soils. On these 'light soils' crops of every kind, but especially root crops and corn, will be benefited by a dressing of wood ashes. Fruit trees and fruit-bearing plants having woody structure will be benefited by wood ashes. Thirty to fifty bushels to the acre, of fresh ashes, will be a full dressing, and three or four times that amount of leached ashes may be applied with permanent benefit."

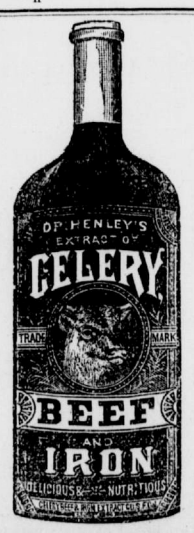

Don't Laugh at Nervous People.

Their sufferings are very real, although you, with your vigorous physique and strong nerves, can scarcely believe it. Rather suggest the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters which, in removing every trace of dyspepsia, and regulating the liver and bowels, strikes at and extirpates the most prolific cause of chronic nervous trouble. That nerve-shattering disease, fever and ague, is among the formidable ailments, to the removal of which this genial remedy is specially adapted. Nervous prostration, resulting from prolonged mental or physical effort, is also a state of the system where the intervention of this tonic is very desirable, more particularly as its use is to quiet and relax the tension of overwrought nerves. The Bitters are invaluable in rheumatism, neuralgia and kidney troubles. Employ no substitute for it.

The cleansing, soothing and healing properties of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid are experienced in the treatment and cure of Catarrh and kindred complaints. The Fluid soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and removes the offensive odor that characterizes the disease. Should the inflammation have reached the throat use the Fluid as a gargle to allay the inflammation and to STAGE CHILDREN.

How the Little Ones are Supplied to Managers.

A grand-child of William H. Vanderbilt once entered with some of the children of poor people I had trained for the stage. Wasn't that democratic? There was a little girl who lives in luxury, and will one day be worth hundreds of thousands of dollars appearing with little boys and girls who will have to earn every dollar they will ever possess. It was "May Blossom" in which this illustration of democratic equality occurred. Little Miss Webb—she was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Webb, who later was Miss Florence Vanderbilt—had been trained for some children's private theatricals, and she begged her parents so hard to let her appear at a "real performance" that they finally allowed her to.

The speaker was an actress, who at one time was known as the best "first old woman" in the profession, and who to-day would find engagements as readily as she ever did. But she devotes herself now almost exclusively to the training of children. I asked her how she had hit upon the idea of giving her attention to that particular branch of theatrical management.

"Because," she replied, "my experience as an actress on the road and in New York showed me that any one who made a system of furnishing and training children for theatrical productions would start a business that must soon thrive, if properly conducted. I had observed that managers were loth to produce plays which called for the employment of children, and that thus a number of good old plays, and some more recent dramatic writing that had elements of strength and profit in them, were neglected. Managers actually preferred to risk bringing out plays not so strong as some of those with children's parts to producing one of the latter."

What was the cause of this indifference to the possible capture of the nimble dollar?"

"Oh! Managers are not indifferent to the nimble dollar. They are almost as active in pursuing it as you newspaper men. But children were such a nuisance about a theatre, and the whole process of engaging, rehearsing and looking after them involved so much trouble that managers would rather have foregone some possible profits than bother with children—and their mothers."

"Ah! I see. The parent that imagined her offspring an incipient 'Hamlet' or 'Desdemona' was a bore?"

"A bore? A positive nuisance; and worst of all, one you couldn't call upon the board of health to abate. But (proudly) I have abated it."

"You are a sort of theatrical board of health."

"Perhaps so. I'll accept your hypothesis and describe to you the nuisance and my method of abating it. Managers, as I told you, were loth to bother with plays which called for children. Why? To begin with, if a manager wanted to fill one child's part in a play he was obliged to advertise. As likely as not one hundred and fifty mothers would turn up with their families. For even if the manager had advertised for a boy or girl about six years old, mothers would bring the fruit of the family tree, ranging from the blossom that still clung to the stem (that is the baby in arms) to the prize cucumber (that is the long and green youths and maidens of fifteen and even sixteen). I wouldn't mind facing a hundred and fifty mothers—for I'm a mother myself. But a manager is a man—a timid, shrinking man. He would settle a hundred and fifty fathers in a short time, but it would take him hours to pour oil upon the troubled waters of maternal protests. He would try to save himself trouble by engaging the first likely-looking child in the string. But that was when the fun really began. The remaining hundred and forty-two mothers would all talk at once. Even precipitate flight was no assurance of safety. The manager, on returning to the theater some hours later, could find the enemy still holding the fort. I would advise a manager who is foolish enough not to employ me, to have the mothers and children gather on the Harlem flats, and carry on negotiations with them from a tugboat, and make a dash for the East river when the business was over."

"I suppose you save managers the bother you described?"

"Yes, and more bother than that. For the real trouble begins after the children have been engaged. You see they have to be trained. Of course the mothers insist on being present at rehearsals. Let the stage manager speak a cross word to a child, and—presto!—he is faced by fury. There is a row, and the rehearsal is interrupted, much to the discomfiture of the actors and the actresses, who are annoyed at so much loss of time."

"Why isn't the child dismissed at once?"

"Because then there would be the bother of selecting and advertising all over again. But the mothers don't stop at attending rehearsals. They insist on being present and behind the scenes at the performances. They crowd into the front entrance, from which they can get a good view of the stage. Now fancy an actor having to make an entrance or exit through a crowd of intent mothers!"

"And how do you save managers all these varieties of bother? How do you actually crush the pride of the mother of an alleged incipient genius?"

"That was the very first requisite to success in my enterprise. I felt that if I could save managers the bother of engaging and rehearsing children they would no longer be shy of plays which called for children. I think my success largely due to the fact that being a mother, I can successfully confront mothers. I have made the employment of children for the stage a very simple matter for managers. I have here an address book with the names, addresses and special qualifications of several hundred children. Two-thirds of the number have already appeared in public, the balance I keep in reserve for filling vacancies caused by pupils growing beyond the age when they are useful for children's parts. How have I made up this list? By doing what the manager would otherwise have to do. In the spring or fall, when I want to replenish my list. I advertise. In answer to that advertisement I have hundreds of applications. I have seen a line extending from my room down the two flights of stairs and around the corner. I ignore the mothers—don't allow them to get in a word between the 'good-morning' and the 'good-bye,' that is, if they don't leave in too much of a huff to say 'good-bye.' I question the little ones and find out their [illegible] are satisfactory in point of looks and give evidence of sufficient intelligence I appoint a time for coming again. Then I continue the sifting down process still further by questioning them more closely. Of the some hundred and fifty children I thus get on my first l..t each is certainly proficient enough for a super, perhaps twenty-five will do for small speaking parts and five will develop into tidy stars of the stage." — [Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

A CHOICE INVESTMENT!
The Celebrated Barton Ranch of 1150 Acres
At Old San Bernardino.
Conceded by all to be the CREAM of the orange growing section in Southern California, has been purchased by a syndicate of capitalists and well known business men. They have incorporated, with a capital of $500,000,
The Barton Land and Water Company.
THE LOCATION of this magnificent property cannot be excelled. REDLANDS, the town of phenomenal growth, joins it on the south, beautiful LUGONIA on the east, GLADESTA on the north, and SAN BERNARDINO, which is fast becoming a prominent railroad center, is only six miles west. The A. T. & S. F. R. R. is now building a line through this ranch, to be completed October 1st. The Southern Pacific is also locating its line two and a half miles through it, and a DUMMY ROAD from San Bernardino will be built as soon as the company can determine and locate the route. At a point where these three roads converge will be located
The Town of Barton.
THE WATER SUPPLY of this property cannot be excelled in all California. It has three separate water rights, either one of which is sufficient for all its requirements. THE CLIMATIC ADVANTAGES of this valley are unsurpassed, and are now attracting persons of weak lungs and throat troubles from all parts of the country. It has an altitude of 1600 feet, a dry atmosphere, and is free from disturbing winds.
One-half of the stock of this company has been taken by the incorporators, and a limited portion of the remainder will be sold on the following terms: 15 per cent cash and 25 per cent on or before September 1st, when the stock certificates will be issued. The character of the incorporators is a guarantee that this is a safe and desirable investment.
The sale of stock will begin on SATURDAY, AUGUST 13, at the offices of W. P. McINTOSH, No. 122 North Spring street, and DAY, HINTON & MATHES, No. 8 North Spring street.
INCORPORATORS: A. B. CHAPMAN, President; W. P. McINTOSH, Vice-President; CHAS. E. DAY, Treasurer; JOSEPH HARDIE, Secretary; H. M. BARTON, B. S. HAYS, SAMUEL MANSFIELD, J. W. MATTICE, JAMES SMITH, W. P. NORTHCROSS. au12 1m

PACIFIC
LAND IMPROVEMENT CO.

FACTS ABOUT FULLERTON.

Fullerton is a town site on the San Diego division of the Santa Fe Railroad, twenty-three miles southwest of Los Angeles and three miles north of Anaheim. It is a regular station on that railway and all trains will stop there.

ADVANTAGES.

Fullerton has the most productive country tributary to it of any new town site laid out in Southern California; the country around is noted for its fertile soil and the great abundance of water. The water is derived from the Anaheim ditch, which, as is well known, is the most copious supply in Southern California. Oranges grow to the greatest perfection. The famous Gilman ranch adjoins the town site of Fullerton. The Gilman place is the "show" walnut grove in the State, visitors being taken there from all parts of the country and shown it as a sample of what can be done in the way of having a perfect walnut grove. Oranges and limes from this section are noted throughout the State as being the finest produced anywhere, and commanding the top market price.

Land in the vicinity of Fullerton is still at a very reasonable figure, as the country is comparatively little known, being at present out of the way of the general line of travel. With the advent of the Santa Fé Railroad, which is expected within ninety days, property will advance very materially, as it will then first be introduced to many seeking productive land at lower prices than that asked for in and about Pasadena.

OSTRICHES.

The original and largest ostrich farm is only one mile from the town, and is a great source of interest to tourists. One hundred ostriches may be counted.

COMMONWEALTH AVENUE

runs through the center of the town, one hundred feet wide and ten miles long. This will be one of the finest avenues in the Southern country. Lined with umbrageous shade-trees, and the soil is naturally adapted to road-making, packing as hard as asphalt, and never dusty or muddy.

ASPHALTUM.

Immense deposits of oil and asphaltum occur in the neighborhood.

PRICES OF LAND.

Ordinary land without water can be purchased for from $75 to $200 per acre; best land with water at $350 to $700 per acre, and there is but little doubt that all this land will sell readily at $1000 per acre within six months from date.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE TOWN OF FULLERTON.

A $25,000 hotel is now in course of erection and will be finished within ninety days; two other $10,000 brick buildings are now contracted for and will be finished within the same time. A bank with $100,000 capital is incorporated, and will put up a $15,000 pressed-brick building immediately. Quite a number of houses are now in course of construction and many lots have been sold conditionally upon brick buildings being erected thereon immediately.

A cement sidewalk six feet wide is now being laid upon all the principal streets; water piped in heavy iron pipes and under good pressure through the streets.

PRICES OF LOTS.

Lots range in price from $150 to $700; all streets are graded and there is not an undesirable lot in the entire town site, as the ground is perfectly level, with a slight fall from the foothills.

SOIL.

The soil is a fine sandy loam which neither gets muddy nor dusty.

CLIMATE.

Fullerton being but eight eight miles from the ocean, gets the sea breeze much sooner than towns on the other side of the foothill, thus producing a low temperature in summer, and at the same time the proximity to the ocean causes a more equal and warmer temperature in winter.

Fullerton has the best soil, the best water, the best climate, the largest and most productive territory tributary to it, the best railroad facilities, and there is more cash being expended in it on permanent improvements than on any new town in Southern California.

The Future Harbor of Southern California!
THIS IS THE OCEAN TERMINUS OF THE CALIFORNIA CENTRAL RAILROAD, OF THE ATCHISON, Topeka and Santa Fe, system, who are under contract to lay five miles of side-track. The shortest railroad line between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.
Port Ballona is Situated on Santa Monica Bay,
Only thirty minutes' ride by rail from the city of Los Angeles, with trains to begin running every three hours in the day early in July. Property can be purchased now at a much lower figure than when railroad and steamships are brought together. Port Ballona has two main avenues, one 100 feet and one 80 feet wide, with all other streets 60 feet wide. Residence lots are 40x150, and business lots 25x100 and 25x150 feet. The residence property is at an elevation of from 50 to 75 feet above tide water, thus affording a most magnificent view, extending from Point Duma to the San Jacinto Mountains, and from the San Bernardino Mountains to Santa Catalina Island, in the blue Pacific, and with a BEACH unsurpassed on the coast.
The Beautiful Lake of Ballona
Is one of the greatest features of the place, affording at all times a perfectly safe and pleasant place for sailing and boating of all kinds, and teeming with fish and water fowl. Coming to Los Angeles!

DR. LIEBIG & CO.,
SPECIAL PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
Of San Francisco.

The above well known and long established specialists will be at 33 NORTH MAIN STREET., Los Angeles, from september 10th to the 20th, 10 days only, where all who are suffering from nervous debility, chronic or complicated diseases, spermatorrhea, impotency, loss of manhood, premature decay, and all complaints resulting from youthful folly, abuse and excesses of maturity, or badly treated cases of special or private nature, will be afforded the opportunity to consult with these celebrated specialists. Consultation free and private.

The Liebig Dispensary for the treatment of all chronic, private and complicated diseases has been established in san Francisco for nearly a quarter of a century. The Dispensary building occupies the entire corner of Geary and Mason streets, San Francisco, and is the only Medical and Surgical Institute on the Pacific coast that has its own elegant drug store in dispensary building, employing registered chemists and scientific surgical instrument makers to manufacture all surgical instruments for the patients of the Liebig Dispensary; also to prepare the celebrated Dr. Liebig's wonderful German Invigorator. To the marvelous cures and discoveries made by Dr. Liebig & Co. are due all the great successes they have had. In 1881 they discovered the complication Prostatorrhœa, resulting from youthful imprudence and excesses of maturity, or unskillfully treated cases of a special nature, that from time immemorial had prevented thousands from being cured of nervous debility, physical weakness and unnatural losses from the system. Dr. Liebig & Co. use every successful remedial agent known to modern scientists favoring the school of Homeopathy and Eclecticism, taking from the Allopathic all that is useful, and adapting surgical instruments to the various ailments and deformities, attaching to appliances, magnetism and electricity. Successful treatment guaranteed in all cases or no fees required.

SURGICAL BRANCH.

The doctors will give personal attention to diseases of the Chest, Head and Throat, Catarrh, diseases of the Liver and Kidneys; also deformities requiring surgical appliances. Balance of treatment conducted from the Liebig Dispensary, San Francisco, Cal.

N.B.—On account of the rapidly increasing practice in San Francisco, this will be the doctor's last visit to Los Angeles.

WEDDING COMPLICATIONS.

Strange Laws That Puzzled a Clergyman.

There was a wedding in Wisconsin last week. Weddings in Wisconsin are not infrequent, but there was that about this particular linking of two young lives, with their accompanying portion of this world's goods, that served to make it rather peculiar. The groom, in anticipation of the happy event, had written some time previously to his father, a veritable down-east minister of Mr. Wesley's church, inviting him to come out and perform the ceremony. While as yet his coming was uncertain the parents of the bride entered into negotiations with their home clergyman—a gentleman of the Universalist faith—who readily consented to do the joiner work, and, as it seems, forthwith considered himself engaged. In the fullness of time the good Methodist brother announced his intention to be on hand, and on hand he was the day before the wedding was to take place. Half an hour later it became unpleasantly apparent that so far as officiating clergymen were concerned here was indeed an embarrassment of riches. The result was that the Methodist brother called upon the Universalist brother, expressing the natural desire of the paternal heart to officiate at the marriage of his own son, and ventured to hint that the latitudinarian brother give way. Whether it was a question of pride or the prospective fee may never be known, but the Universalist brother not only stood upon his rights, but, by his learned exposition of the Wisconsin marriage law, made it as plain as the way to a parish church that if a clergyman purposes to join two people in the bonds of matrimony in the Badger state he must be prepared to show by indubitable testimony that he is a regularly ordained minister of the gospel. Now, while the good Methodist brother's good wife had packed about everything else into her spouse's valise that could by any possibility minister to his comfort, she had forgotten his credentials. They were at home, and here he was in Wisconsin.

A ray of light pierced the gloom, however, when it was subsequently discovered that in the absence of the credentials themselves a minister may act if he can succeed in persuading the county clerk by other evidence properly recorded that he is a bona fide, regularly ordained clergyman. The groom and one other, besides the Methodist brother himself were quite ready to make affidavit to such a state of facts, and after much telegraphing back and forth, and a night ride over to the county seat, all legal obstructions were brushed away, peace spread her wings and the Methodist brother, in the goodness of his heart, actually offered to let his late antagonist officiate with him on the basis of an even divide. The offer was accepted, the alloted parts carefully marked and the "cues" agreed upon, and all promised to go off with the regularity of a new four dollar alarm clock.

But it didn't. The Universalist brother upon whom devolved the preliminary portion of the ceremony, was apparently minded, like Tennyson's brook, to go on forever. Instead of following the Shakespearean injunction regarding other clowns, to "speak no more than is set down for them," he not only went through his own part of the ceremony, but made a generous incursion upon the other's. When at last he finally did let go, it puzzled the Methodist brother, as it might well have puzzled anyone else, to know what was left outside of the benediction. But the disciple of Mr. Wesley proved equal to the occasion. With a neatly worded introduction and a regret at what might seem a repetition of some things that might have been said, he calmly and reverently proceeded to marry the young people over again.

It is doubtful whether a couple has been so thoroughly married in Wisconsin or elsewhere for many moons. —[Chicago Tribune.

DAILY HERALD.

THE NEW HOTEL.

A Large Amount of Money Already Subscribed.

A meeting of the committee having in charge the erection of the proposed new hotel at the corner of Main and Tenth streets, was held last evening in the hall over the engine house, on Ninth street near Main. Dr. M. Hagan was called to the chair and E. H. Owen acted as Secretary.. W. D. Stephenson opened the meeting by stating its objects. He stated that people are very enthusiastic over the matter and the committee is receiving every encouragement. He then read the following agreement which subscribers have to sign:

We, the undersigned, hereby subscribe the amounts placed opposite our respective names, to be taken by us in stock in the corporation to be formed for the erection of an hotel on the corner of Main and 10th streets, in Los Angeles, upon the following conditions, viz:

First—That those tracts of land in Los Angeles, of uniform width and depth, the one fronting 300 feet on both Main and Los Angeles streets, and about 335 feet on 10th street; and the other being opposite to the first described tract, fronting 100 feet on Los Angeles street, and extending easterly about 150 feet, be deeded to said corporation, and in lieu thereof, $150,000 in stock to be delivered to the owners of said lands.

Second—That said hotel will cost not less than $500,000.

Third—That all the sums subscribed by us shall be due and payable as follows: One-fourth thereof on each of the following dates: November 1st, 1887, February 1st, 1888, May 1st, 1888, and August 1st, 1888, respectively.

It was announced that $386,000 has been already subscribed, and that it will not take very long to secure the desired amount.

Judge E. M. Ross made a few remarks, saying that there will be a great lack of accommodations in this city this winter. "It is an undeniable fact," said the speaker, "that we can't have too many first-class hotels, and it will redound to the credit of Los Angeles and Southern California in general to have a hostelery such as it is proposed to construct. The yearly income will more than justify the immense outlay it will take to build it. The erection of the hotel will enhance the value of property in Los Angeles, and particularly in the immediate neighborhood of the site."

Mr. Van Doren said that while he has resided in Los Angeles for only a short time, he is opposed to making the hotel "sectional." He said that inasmuch as its erection will help the whole county, all the surrounding towns should be allowed to contribute.

The Chair appointed Messrs. White, Stephenson and Howland a committee to perfect the organization. The following committee on subscription was appointed: Messrs. Owen, Rhodes, Hanburry, Urquides, McIntosh, Cutler, Dietrich, Wilson, Lovell, Jacoby, Lewin, Hagan, Brodrick, Mott, Shaffer, Rowan, Sabichi, Kerckhoff, Charnock, Jereshaw, O'Dea, Cohn, Barrett, Hinton, Riley and Day.

The committee then adjourned.

RAILROAD LANDS.

The S. P. Indemnity Lands Open for Settlement.

The Register of the United States Land Office for the Los Angeles District, J. D. Bethune, Esq., yesterday received a letter from Acting Commissioner S. M. Stockslager, notifying him the local official that in accordance with instructions irom the Interior Department, he is to advertise as restored to the public domain and open to settlement. All lands withdrawn and now held for indemnity purposes, in accordance with the grant made by Congress to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company along the main line and branches of said company. There is excepted from this order such lands as may be covered by approved selections. That is, such selections as have been made by the road and approved by the Commissioner at Washington, and by the Secretary of the Interior. It is also provided that this restoration shall not affect any rights acquired by the granted limits of any other Congressional gift.

All entries on these restored lands are to be made subject to the claims of the Southern Pacific Company, a fact of which all applicants are to be fully advised, and the fact of their being so advised is to be endorsed on all applications. On filing an application the railroad company is to be notified of such fact, and the company is to have thirty days in which to make objection.

This order is not to go into effect until after it has been advertised for thirty days in a local paper. The advertisement appears in the HERALD to-day. This order affects all such lands as are embraced in its purviews from Los Angeles to Yuma, and from Mojave to The Needles. It is impossible to learn how much it is. The railroad has filed on a great deal of the lands embraced in the grant. The selections cover for the most part the best lands in the grant. Much of what is left is desert or mountain tracts.

Our Records.

EDITORS HERALD:—Will you allow me space to call the attention of the public to the exceedingly poor and, in fact, dangerous provision made for keeping the public records. The Court House is, as every one knows, a brick building, totally inadequate for the business transacted therein; this is divided and subdivided by wooden partitions into various rooms; the stairways are wood, and, in fact, all of the fixtures are built of highly inflammable materials. In addition to this, beneath the building is a large cellar open, to a certain extent, to the air, thus causing a continual draught. This cellar is stored with old rubbish of various descriptions, and constitutes in itself a veritable fire-trap; the vault is in a fairly good condition, but should a fire occur the probabilities are that its contents would be completely destroyed. The effect of the loss of the public records can hardly be conceived; no real estate transfers could take place for years to come, and our "boom" and ourselves would be relegated to the same place which we occupied five years ago.

Yours, etc.,

"PRECAUTION.

The danger pointed out by PRECAUTION is evident to all intelligent citizens, and the necessity of storing the archives in a place of safety is imperative. A portion of the documents might be stored in the new County Jail while the new Court House is being constructed. Others could be stored in large safes, separated from the Court House and free from danger.

At present there are very carefully prepared abstracts of title in the city, and every transfer recorded is transferred daily into these books and form a complete chain of title to the property that is invaluable.

When Chicago and all her records were burned up, the abstracts of title were legalized in place of the books of record of the county, and the sales and the boom went on as usual. The same action could be taken in Los Angeles as in Chicago, but it would be very expensive. The proprietors of the abstract volumes in Chicago demanded and received an enormous sum for their volumes at that time, but there was no other way out of the calamity than to pay them whatever they demanded.

In case of a destruction of transfers in Los Angeles a similar course could be pursued as that in Chicago, but that would not protect the voluminous records of the courts, the Sheriff and the Supervisors for the two years during which the Court House is being built. The Supervisors will see that extra precautions are taken to prevent lamps from being used, or burglarious entrances being made, or dynamiters allowed to imperil the archives until the new Court House shall be completed.

A Runaway.

About 7:30 last evening one of the California Southern Transfer Company's two-horse wagons driven by Charles Goodtree, was engaged in delivering a trunk at a residence on Clay street. The driver was just unloading the box, when a woman came to the door of an adjoining house and shook a tablecloth to rid it of some superfluous bread-crumbs, when the horses, becoming frightened, started off on a dead run. They turned the corner into Third street, down which thoroughfare they proceeded at full gallop. As they crossed Fort street they swerved from the road and went with a headlong dash into the fence which surrounds Mr. J. A. Graves' residence. One of the animals struck the stone coping with such force that he died in a few minutes, and after the other one had quickened down from its mad fit of plunging and kicking it was found that its foreleg was broken. Under the direction of Dr. Cowper it was at once taken to the stables, where, after a minute examination, it was decided that the animal be killed.

No one was seriously hurt, Goodtree escaping with a few bruises. It looked at one time as if an individual who was standing opposite Mr. Graves's house was doomed to certain death, for as the runaway bore down upon him, he appeared paralyzed by fear and only just recovered his senses in time to step aside as the team reached the sidewalk.

The Troubadours.

Quite a large and appreciative audience welcomed Zerega's Royal Spanish Troubadours at the Opera House last night. These minstrels have just finished a successful engagement in San Francisco and open their season here under favorable auspices. They appear in the rich and picturesque garb of the Andalusians, and produce the most exquisite and captivating music from their mandolins and guitars. They are five in number, three gentlemen and two ladies. Their programme last night embraced a number of popular as well as classical pieces, and was varied with melodious and spirited Spanish airs, including the festive music of the baille and the fandango. They were liberally applauded, and called out to repeat several times. These five musicians handle their instruments with such delicacy of touch as to produce a most delicious concord of sweet sounds. The harmony is perfect, and the gay notes of the instruments carry one dreamily back into the days when every hacienda in California was enlivened by the music of the guitar responded to by tripping feet and joyous voices. If instead of recitations between their numbers, they had a set of dancers to tread their measures to the lutes, it would make a very complete and a very superior performance. The Troubadours will appear again to-night.

Paris Must Look to Her Laurels.

LOS ANGELES, September 4, 1887.

EDITORS HERALD—A French traveler was very much pleased to read in yesterday morning's Tribune that the future St. James' park of Los Angeles will be entered through a gateway rivaling the "Arc de Triomphe" of Paris. As this monument is known as one of the most beautiful in the world, I am pleased to give a brief description of it, rejoicing that Los Angeles is going to have something like it if not superior.

The "Arc de Triomphe" of Paris is 100 feet high. The columns, composing four entrances, are forty feet in depth. This monument is entirely built of solid stones, each block being one cubic yard.

On each side of the columns are sculptured figures representing different battle scenes, each figure being about eighteen feet high, and in the interior of the archways are engraved the name of famous French generals, such as Ney, Montebello, Eekmul, Auerstadt, Rogniat, Lefevre, Essling, Bernadotte, Augerean, and many others.

The monument was erected at a cost of 20,000,000f by Napoleon I, en souvenir of the victories of the French army.

Again, I rejoice that Los Angeles will rival Paris.

A FRENCH TRAVELER.

The Real Estate Exchange.

EDITORS HERALD—The Los Angeles Real Estate and Stock Exchange will hold its first regular public session on Monday morning next, 12th inst. On Saturday evening, 10th inst., the institution will have a formal opening at 15½ South Spring street with appropriate exercises, which include an inaugural address by Hon. H. G. Rollins, the President of the Exchange.

The Weather.

The atmosphere yesterday was peculiar. The lower wind current was from the "South-Southeast," while the upper currents were mainly from the west and north. The clouds where these winds meet were whirled hither and thither and appeared to find no rest for their watery burden. A condensing wind might at any moment have precipitated a shower, or formed a water spout, which would have been far worse.

At Santa Cruz the condensing current was so strong as to produce a shower during the afternoon of yesterday. Such showers are sporadic and do not indicate the early coming of winter rains by any means, but rather otherwise.

Those who wish to study the peculiar movements in cloudland should obtain a blue glass through which to make their observations. The eyes are by this protected and the sight is enchanting of these silent wanderers of the air. As they rise they change their shape and peculiar features, and as they pass upward into diverse currents they are frequently torn into pieces and formed into most grotesque shapes of castles, trees, bridges, lakes, mountains, thrones of jasper, sapphire and amethyst, with arches of rainbows round about them. As a source of pure pleasure, to those who have the leisure, the delight of cloudland observation is most delicious.

It seems strange that the Chautauqua Society has not made cloudland more an object of observation than it has done. When the railway shall be completed to Wilson's Peak there will be a still better point of observation there than has been heretofore found in lower places.

Band of Hope.

The delightful band of little children denominated the Band of Hope, under the able management of Mrs. J. H. Blanchard, gave a very interesting entertainment last night at the Park Congregational Church, near Temple and Beaudry streets. The audience was large and appreciative, and the little people amused and delighted the people with a fine rendition of the following programme:

The New Chief.

Captain P. M Darcy was yesterday elected Chief of Police by the Republican council. He is well-known in Los Angeles, having lived here for a number of years, and it is to be hoped that he will make a good Chief. Darcy is not the most popular fellow in the world and it is probable that in a few days there will be a vigorous protest entered against him by certain members of the Republican party. The Democrats will leave him severely alone and let him work out his own destiny.

During the last campaign the Republican County Central Committee offered a reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of any man attempting to vote unlawfully. Darcy caught a fellow, and, arraigning him before Justice Ranney, had him convicted and fined. Darcy then applied to the Republican Committee for the reward, and was laughed at for his pains. He felt a little badly on account of the treatment received from his own party, and brought suit for the $1000. This suit is still pending with good chances of Darcy making a winning. The members of the Republican Committee are a little hot at Darcy, but they should give him a show.

An Outrage on Taxpayers.

Mr. Louis Mesmer, one of the oldest taxpayers in the city, resides on Fort street between First and Second street. He states that six weeks ago the graveled street in front of his property had been lowered six inches, after which he had the gutter made and a bridge placed over the gutter on which he could drive to the stable in the rear. Yesterday while Mr. Mesmer was out of town the street was again torn up, the earth partly removed, the gutter torn up and the large bridge turned over onto the sidewalk, obstructing about half the width of the sidewalk, so that pedestrians in the darkness were likely to fall over it and become seriously if not fatally injured, and access to his stable was obstructed. In the darkness when Mr. Mesmer drove home he came suddenly into a torn-up street with no lights of warning, and nearly upset his carriage in attempting to drive over a bridge that was out of place and tipped over on the sidewalk besides. Mr. Mesmer desires to know by what authority his sidewalk was obstructed, his bridge and gutter removed and the street torn up just after it had been graded and no light set for the danger in store for the travelers. He desires to know if this was done by the Street Commissioner, and if so from what source he derived his authority, and if taxpayers have any right that a Street Commissioner is bound to respect. Mr. Mesmer demands satisfaction for this outrage.

THE COUNTY AUDITOR.

He is Absolved by the Supervisors.

BUT MR. MACKENZIE OBJECTS,

And Promises to Come Back at Mr. Montano in a Few Days.

The following petition by A. A. Montaño, County Auditor, was read before the Board of Supervisors yesterday:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles—GENTLEMEN: A few weeks ago, attention was called to your honorable body and to the people of this county to a report compiled by one Mackenzie, expert of the late Grand Jury, regarding the condition and management of the affairs of my office. You doubtless remember that said report was extremely damaging to me and to those under me. Being absent from this city for quite awhile, and only having arrived a few days ago, this is the first opportunity that I have had to answer said charge.

Desiring to clear myself from the infamous, unjust and false charges that said Mackenzie brought against me, I then requested your honorable body to do justice to myself and to those connected with my office, and to employ an expert accountant of your own choice to examine the books and accounts of my office and report to you. You granted my request, for which I am very thankful to you, and appointed Wm. R. Blackman, expert accountant, one of the most reliable and accurate gentlemen in his line, known as such by a great majority of the business men of this city, county and State.

I earnestly beg the pardon of your honorable body for intruding upon your time with this long communication, but you being aware of that damaging report, I am sure that you will spare me a few moments of your time for my defense.

Through the kindness of Mr. Dunsmoor, County Clerk, who has permitted me to examine the report of Mr. Blackman on file in his office, I have hereby quoted from him in answer to Mackenzie.

In the first charge Mackenzie has said as follows: "I would beg leave to report as to the County Auditor. He is the key-note to all county officers, but that note is out of tune. Two years ago his books were in good shape, to-day they are in a miserable condition; erasures of all kinds, moneys transferred from one fund to another, which are wrong and subsequently have been rectified."

Mr. Blackman has, I believe, examined this thoroughly and reports to you as follows: "I find everything in these books to be correctly entered and accounted for. There are no transfers made without a corresponding authority."

Then, again, Mackenzie in treating of the road funds, says as follows: His road fund books are not correct individually, in the aggregate they are, but yet such a state of affairs should not exist."

Mr. Blackman has examined these funds in a thorough manner and reports to you as follows: "The road fund accounts as kept in the Auditor's books are individually as well as in the aggregate correct."

There are three county officers who collect fees payable into the county treasury monthly, viz., the County Clerk, Recorder and Sheriff; Mackenzie in reporting on these officers says, that he has examined the fee books, etc., of those officers and he finds them virtually correct and everything accounted for; but mark the inconsistency in treating of my (as he supposed) examination of the fee books of said officers, he uses the following language: "He states that he has fully posted up the various amounts collected by the different officials of this county as his signature shows, but I know better, as the various clerical errors will show."

I ask you, gentlemen, how could this man say that that was virtually correct in reporting on those three officers, and in reporting on my office for the same identical thing, mind you, report as he did and tell the truth? If he found any mistake or clerical error, why did he not state plainly what it was and where and how it happened, so that it could be rectified without any unnecesary comments, as was clearly his duty to do and nothing more; there is a difference of, just think of it, $1 between the clerk's books and his settlement with the treasury. My wonder is that he did not recommend an indictment for that; but he does not say where and what is the error, so that it could be rectified; furthermore, I deny that to be my mistake, but the County Clerk's; it is not my duty to go over the books of the Clerk, Sheriff and Recorder monthly, it is their duty to file an affidavit with the Treasurer monthly, stating the amount of their collections for the previous month and settle with the Auditor's office accordingly; it is also their duty to file their fee book with the Auditor at the end of their term, viz: every two years. I never claimed to said Mackenzie that I add these officers' books monthly; I merely compare the totals of their books with their affidavit under oath, so that no flagrant error can occur, and when the time comes then I shall go over them as thoroughly as I may be able to, not being a professional expert like said Mackenzie.

Mr. Blackman has carefully gone over this work and that part of his report being lengthy, I refer you to it.

Mr. Montaño then copies at length several extracts from the Political Code, which prescribes the duties of Tax Collector.

He then points out that according to law the final settlement of the Tax Collector for original taxes should be made on the third Monday in January and the final settlement for delinquent taxes on the third Monday in March, and said that this was not done owing to El. Hammond having absconded with the funds.

Mr. Montaño then says that Mackenzie did not make a proper examination of his books and accounts, such as that made by Mr. Blackman, but that every time he came to the office he was mumbling and staggering, and could hardly stand on his legs.

Mr. Montaño ends his document as follows: "In conclusion, I earnestly request your honorable body to have said Mackenzie subpœnaed before you, and have him state on oath whether he did or did not make a complete examination of the books, vouchers, accounts, etc., of my office.

"Yours respectfully,
"A. A. MONTANO,
"County Auditor."

MR. BLACKMAN'S REPORT.

The following is the report of Mr. Blackman, expert accountant, who examined the County Auditor's books:

To the Honorable the Supervisors for the County of Los Angeles.

GENTLEMEN—In accordance with instructions received I have made a careful and complete examination of the books of the County Auditor, together with all the vouchers pertaining thereto, covering the period from September 1, 1886, to June 30, 1887, I find everything in these books to be correctly entered and accounted for. All transfers ordered by your Board to be made from one fund to another are made upon the books the veracity of which I have ascertained by reference to the minute books of your board meetings. There are no transfers made without a corresponding authority. The accounts are clearly kept and as far as I can see quite as well kept as they have ever been; the system adopted by the Auditor being simple, so simple and plain that the history of each fund is contained in the account itself and is not an exhibition of figures only. There are a few erasures—this is one thing it would be well for all officials to avoid; it is far better to rule a mistake through than erase it, although the general custom is to seek the aid of the knife, but it is a custom fraught with danger of misrepresentation.

The road fund accounts as kept in the Auditor's books are individually as well as in the aggregate correct. It is with these accounts and those of the school funds that most all the transfers take place. To the uninitiated the entries might have the appearance of being corrections of entries previously made, but examination will prove otherwise.

The accounts for the months of September, October, November and December 1886 are contained in one book, while a new book is started for January 1, 1887. In the first book I find that some of the entries and footings have been checked by the expert for the grand jury, while in the book following I cannot trace a single check or mark showing they were ever examined. This latter book contains the larger part of the work and it certainly should have been examined, as the whole period, September to June, was embodied in the experts report.

I have examined the fee books of the Sheriff, County Recorder and County Clerk as the monthly totals agree with the settlements made by those officers with the Auditor, all of which are verified by the Treasurer's vouchers; the footings are in every respect correct in the books of the Sheriff and County Recorder as certified to by the Auditor, while those in the books of the Clerk are in reality correct, there being only four small differences: 1. A page costs a dollar more, but I find a note calling attention to an entry put in after the addition was made, at page 87 the column foots 50 cents more; at page 89 the column foots $1 less; at page 118 the column foots 50 cents more, in this column there is one entry of $1.50 but the 5 is so uncertain as to form that any one might pass it over, the difference is therefore $1 in the aggregate, which is accounted for by the Clerk in the subsequent month.

As to the accounts of the late County Tax Collector I can add no more than is stated in my report so recently submitted.

Respectfully yours,
W. R. BLACKMAN,
Expert Accountant.

Los Angeles, August 25.

ACTION OF THE BOARD.

On motion of Supervisor Venable, the following report was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Attention was brought to this Board and to the people of the county at large, to a report on account of the County Auditor compiled by J. S. Mackenzie, expert of the Grand Jury; and

WHEREAS, This Board believing it their duty to have the books of the County Auditor experted and examined by some competent accountant, appointed Mr. W. R. Blackman, expert accountant, for that purpose; and

WHEREAS, Having read the report of Mr. Blackman, which exonorates the County Auditor from the charges made by said J. S. Mackenzie, it is hereby

Resolved, That we believe the charges brought by said J. S. Mackenzie to be unjustifiable and without any foundation.

MACKENZIE WILL ANSWER.

J. S. Mackenzie desires to withhold his answer to the above article published by A. A. Montano until he can, by acknowledged facts and figures, verify the statements he made to the County Grand Jury. His answer will appear in full in the issue of the day after to-morrow.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Remonstrance to the State Board of Equalization.

The following telegram was sent yesterday by the Board of Trade:

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 5, 1887.

To State Board of Equalization, Sacramento, Cal.

The Los Angeles Board of Trade, representing the mercantile interests of this city, and expressing the unanimous sentiments of our people, ask your honorable board as a matter of justice and right that the assessment of the counties of San Francisco, Alameda, Santa Clara, San Joaquin, Sacramento and others be raised to their full cash value, or that of Los Angeles county be reduced. We are assessed full value. Raise them proportionately to full value and let ours stand, or reduce ours proportionately and let theirs stand. At our valuation, San Francisco should be from four hundred to five hundred millions.

E. GERMAIN, President.
A. M. LAWRENCE,
Secretary Los Angeles Board of Trade.

Important Railway Appointment.

John L. Truslow, formerly General Western Passenger Agent of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway has been appointed General Passenger and Freight Agent of the California Central Railway (Santa Fe system), with headquarters at Santa Barbara, Cal. While regretting the departure of Mr. Truslow from Los Angeles, the good people of Santa Barbara are to be congratulated on the accession to their society of a most popular and accomplished official who should receive the most polite and appreciative attention.

The appointment of Mr. Truslow indicates the construction of the railway from East Los Angeles through San Fernando Valley, the Simi, Las Posas and Colonio to Huenememe and San Buenaventura to Santa Barbara. When the work of railway extension will begin is not yet stated.

Robbed of His Watch.

Dr. W. H. Morrison went to Long Beach on Sunday and like most other visitors took a bath in the Pacific. He left his clothes in the bath-house, never dreaming that his valuables were not safe. When he returned he found that some sneak thief had entered the bath-house and taken from his vest his open face gold watch with a hair chain and some other trinkets. This is not an infrequent occurence at the beach and parties taking a bath there should be careful to leave no valuables temptingly exposed. They should deposit their watches, coin, etc., with the proprietors of the hotel.

Sudden Death.

Jilinne Lucheto, a native of Italy, 16 years of age, died suddenly yesterday morning at Florence. Deceased was a gardener and occupied a room in company with two others of the same nationality. These two were awakened in the early morning by hearing the boy groan, and on striking a light saw him on the floor. He expired before anything could be done for him, and an investigation showed the cause of death to have been heart disease. The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death from natural causes.

Arrest of Jack Holland.

Deputy Sheriff J. H. Kerns, of San Fernando, yesterday arrested Jack Holland on the B. F. Porter rancho, in San Fernando, where he was working on a threshing machine, and brought him to this city. Jack has been wanted in Santa Barbara for the past two months on a charge of burglary, and it is hinted that other charges will rise up in judgment before him in that county. The Sheriff of Santa Barbara will be here this afternoon and will be glad to see him. Jack will not be so glad.

The Cheapest Lands in Pasadena

The reservoir, to cost about $10,000, on the Raymond Improvement Company Tract, in front of the Raymond Hotel, is being constructed, and it is having the effect of creating a boom in the lands surrounding the Hotel. The Raymond Improvement Company has its first subdivision ready, and they offer the cheapest lots in Pasadena for sale. The lots are selling very fast. Smith & Jacobs, who are the shrewdest speculators in Pasadena, purchased 115 lots on this tract at one time, last week. They propose to build houses and mark up the lots to about double the Company's present prices, and purchasers may look for a general marking up in a short time. Fair-Oaks avenue is to be widened to an 80-foot street, and Smith & Jacobs intend to build a handsome business block. Four elegant cottages already contracted for. An electric road, from Los Angeles to this tract, is under headway, and this Company has also agreed to give the right of way and a bonus to another road which will run from the Raymond Hotel through their land, to Long Beach. Apply to Raymond Improvement Company, Room 10, Los Angeles National Bank Building, corner First and pring streets.

Fred. W. Thompson, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, arrived yesterday with his wife. Fred is here on official business.

C. F. Smurr, General Freight and Passenger Agent of the Southern Pacific Company arrived on Sunday night from San Diego and proceeded by rail to San Francisco.

E. H. Miller, Comptroller of the Southern Pacific Company was of the party who have been making a tour of inspection in this section. Mr. Miller returned yesterday to his home in Alameda.

News Notes.

Another Phillips excursion will arrive next Monday from Boston and Chicago.

One hundred and seventy-five pension vouchers were attested to in the County Clerk's office yesterday.

The ship J. V. Troop, from Departure Bay, arrived yesterday with 2160 tons of coal for Walter S. Maxwell.

The number of real estate transfers recorded yesterday was 136. The considerations of the same amounted to $541,510.

Warner Brothers will send out an excursion train to Chicago on Thursday to be loaded up with returning settlers in a few days.

Charles Engels was arrested on Aliso avenue, yesterday morning, by Officer Stevenson, for discharging a pistol within the city limits.

Frank Bartlett Post will give an entertainment to-morrow evening for the benefit of the Old Ladies' Home. The entertainment will take place at Armory Hall.

F. W. Tyler, Captain of the police force, who resigned with Chief Skinner several days ago, handed in his star yesterday. The Captain will be a loss to the police force.

Clarence Mallard, who has been in the Los Angeles postoffice for the past nine years, resigned last Friday. "Cad" has been a faithful official and his retirement is a matter of regret.

August Giessner and Frank Young were arrested yesterday by Officer Ribble for conducting a saloon on the corner of Commercial and Wilmington streets, without the necessary precaution of securing a license.

The Los Angeles College will reopen on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. This college fairly exemplifies the progress of the city, as the present spacious edifice on the corner of Fifth and Olive is already too small, and additional buildings have been obliged to be rented for the use of the students.

Geo. Cotteral & Co. left for the East last night via the Southern Pacific, Central Pacific and Union Pacific railroads with two excursion cars of passengers, who are making a visit to the "old folks at home" after the heat of summer and before the cold of winter. They will return with a large number of friends.

The ladies of Frank Bartlett Relief Corps have completed the arrangement for an entertainment to be given to-morrow evening at Armory Hall. Among those on the prrgramme are Prof. Wilde, Miss Hance, Mr. Stoneman and Miss Bell, and the number of tickets already sold shows that the entertainment will be a success.

Friday evening a peculiar accident occurred to the three-year-old daughter of Mr. Ed. Germain. The little cherub was playing around a table when a pen attached to a heavy holder fell into her eye. A painful wound was inflicted and Dr. Kurtz was called in, but it can be stated that there is no danger of little Miss Germain losing her eyesight.

There seems to have been a corner made in the asphalt business in San Luis Obispo and Monterey counties that hinders the paving business, while in Los Angeles there is an overabundance of that material, which can be furnished at three days' notice by the hundreds of tons. Why not utilize the Los Angeles article?

Thousands of persons have made arrangements to leave the Atlantic and Middle States for California, with the privilege of stopping over at the great exhibition of South California at St. Louis. After the fair is over the number of visitors to South California will be legion. The people there assembled will see the products of the land and come here to enjoy the pleasures of their uses by thousands.

IN NEW QUARTERS.

The U. S. Land Office on Upper Main Street.

Yesterday the U. S. Land Office completed its removal from the McDonald block on Main street to the new Clinton building on Upper Main street. The new quarters are roomy, well lighted and well ventilated.

Register J. D. Bethune, Esq., and Receiver I. H. Polk were busy yesterday getting settled, and looked happy as clams in high water.

The place is a little remote from the center of the city, but all the business of Los Angeles cannot be done in Temple block. Moreover, there is no competition with Uncle Sam's office where the rich and kind old gentleman gives all his boys a farm. And besides, nearly all who do business there come from the country and can get off the cars at the new place as well as at the old.

The New City Hall.

The Building Committee of the City Council yesterday recommended that Clerk Teed advertise for bids for the building of the new City Hall, and that the bids be made returnable to the Council in four weeks. The plans for the new building were adopted some time ago, and the Architect has been busy ever since in preparing working drawings. Last week the City Surveyor surveyed the ground for the necessary excavations, and now everything is in readiness to commence the building. In order to be sure that there will be bids, it was decided to advertise in San Francisco papers, from which it is expected some return will be made. From appearances, the new $150,000 City Hall will be commenced before winter sets in, and some provision will be made for the city officers, who, at present, are considerably scattered.

Undelivered Messages.

Messages remain uncalled for at the Western Union Telegraph office, 17 North Main street, for the following persons, held for want of proper addresses: Fred. A. Smith, George W. Pearson, Dr. C. G. Stewart, J. H. Schumaker, C. S. Bartlett, W. A. Titcomb, Hattie Carroll, Mrs. J. E. Durkee, J. E. Durkee, G. M. Miller, A. J. Glenny, W. Moore, David J. Martin, Mrs. Stephen Moyle, Amelia Lugo, J. F. The New Depot.

Hon. Stephen M. White appeared before the City Council yesterday on behalf of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and obtained permission for the company to put down a temporary track leading into the property where the new depot is to be located. Mr. White stated that it was the intention of the company to commence work on the new depot at once, and in order to place the material on the ground a track would be necessary. As soon as the depot is completed it will be necessary to have permanent tracks leading from it to Alameda street, and for these a franchise will be asked..

Railway Visitors.

J. A. Fillmore, General Superintendent of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, E. H. Miller, Jr., Secretary, W. H. Jewett, Auditor, W. G. Curtis, Superintendent of tracks, with E. E. Hewitt, Division Superintendent, visited San Diego on Sunday to look at the property of the Southern Pacific Company on the bay of San Diego. The party returned yesterday and went to Santa Monica, returning in the evening their two elegant cars were attached to the 7:30 train and they left for San Francisco. They were all reticent about railway plans, but it seems that the visit to San Diego means a commencement of work at that place soon.

A Boy Run Over.

Early yesterday morning as Deputy Sheriff Charles L. Cruz was driving in a buggy at the crossing of Main and First streets he accidentally ran over the nine-year-old son of C. W. Mortimer. The boy's right arm was considerably bruised, but he was otherwise uninjured. Officer Dan Lynch took the little sufferer into a neighboring drug store, where his wounds were attended to, after which he was sent home.

A Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock as G. J. Gross, of 670 Hope street, was driving in his buggy down Temple street, the vehicle became overturned and Mr. Gross was precipitated to the pavement. The horse ran down Fort street, dragging the overturned buggy after him. At the corner of Second street the animal was caught. Mr. Gross escaped with but slight injuries.

Lumber Arrivals.

At San Pedro yesterterday there arrived the schooner Bobolink, from Mendocino, with 240,000 feet of lumber for the San Pedro Lumber Company; also the schooner Challenger, from Eureka, with 350,000 feet of lumber for the Kerckhoff-Cuzner Mill and Lumber Company.

REAL ESTATE.

COMBINATION LAND COMPANY.

SPECIAL No. 1.

Bernardo—Who comes here?

Horatio—Friends to this ground!

Marcellus—And liegemen to the Dane.

Hamlet, Act I., Scene 1.

We beg leave to introduce ourselves to your present and prayerful consideration. We have secured this column in the HERALD for one year. During that year we shall pay the HERALD for printing these specials. At the end of the year we expect that the HERALD will pay us for the privilege of publishing them. We shall continue each advertisement usually for a week, sometimes not more than three days, occasionally the same matter may be printed for ten days, never longer, for the public abhors chestnuts.

Our purpose is to try and sell real estate, not on commission—that is, not in the ordinary sense. The lands that from time to time we may offer for sale, will be lands in the sale of which we will have something more and dearer than a broker's interest, that is dearer to the vendor, not dearer to the purchaser. In offering properties we shall endeavor to lift advertising out of the dreary and in some instances the driveling ruts into which it has fallen, and thus deserve well of the reading public. Jerry Black—a master of vigorous English—was accustomed to say that "the reading of newspapers is benumbing to the intellect." This if not always true of the editorial and news columns, is abundantly true of the advertising department. In the presence of columns of display type, and columns of dry phrasing, and columns compounded of gush and yawp, the average reader becomes so prostrated that he forgets what it is all about; he has a confused idea that somebody has for sale an orange grove adjoining Temple Block, and somebody else wants three thousand dollars a foot for a brownstone orchard with a plate glass front, three miles from the city limits, and so to cool off his half-cremated brain and take the taste of bad English out of his mouth, he actually reads one of Jo Lynch's editorials.

Southern California is supposed just now to have a boom, and a condition of affairs which justifies such rents as are asked for the rookeries which disgrace the block bounded by First, Second, Spring and Main streets does seem to be a little inflated, but it is only a seeming after all. In fact, the boom is only beginning, for as we write these lines, there are a hundred thousand people east of the Rocky mountains, who are packing their Lares and Penates (Lares and Penates, friends, are not lunch baskets, but household gods) and preparing to skip away from blizzards and pneumonia, and seek these golden shores.

What do you suppose will be the effect on a tenderfoot as he rides on a January morning into the lush and perfume of Southern California, and beholds the sunny south of his boyhood, the New Jerusalem of his theology, Hesperides of his classics, all combined in an actuality of golden orchards and flower bespangled lawns? Do we not know what the effect will be? Why before the dust is washed from his face, and while the ill-cooked and besmeared food of his first-class hotel yet mangles in his "innards," he will hie him to the nearest real estate office to purchase a piece of this Paradise. And he will write back to his friends in the East and advise them also to come, and they will follow his advice, and so the tide of immigration will flow and flow with never a refluent wave. aed values will climb and climb, as does the hunter with an unloaded rifle when there is a tree handy and a grizzly bear close at hand.

Our purpose is to help these wealthy emigrants to health and happiness by helping them to the ownership of lands in Los Angeles and San Bernardino and San Diego and Baja California, and even as far north as Ventura and beyond. We draw the line only at Oakland. Although we are a corporation yet we have a conscience, and we will not eulogize a place where they fasten Riverside oranges with giant cement to scrub oak trees, and grope their way through the fog to the ferryboats, wheezing out lies about Los Angeles.

We will shortly have two splendid properties to place on the market. One is a new seaside city on the California Southern road, a gem of a place. The workmen are now busy grading the avenues, laying water pipes and building a railroad station and bathhouses.

The other is a beautiful valley one hundred and fifty thousand acres in Baja California. The railroad engineers are now at work planting stakes for the railroad which will shortly connect our southern neighbor with ourselves. These lands are incomparably fertile and abundantly watered and the climate is matchless. They will be offered for about one-fifth the price of similar lands in California. Wait a little.

The Combination Land Company.

Office will be announced as soon as we secure one.

CATARRH.

THE TERM CATARRH IS APPLIED TO A peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts, which prevails to an alarming extent, and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristic feature is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times.

In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acrid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent or muco-purulent, greenish-yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fetid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the mo bid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow downward his rest is frequently disturbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the passage between the throat and head, adhering to the parts with gluish tenacity. Its lodgment embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistible desire to relieve that discomfort by drawing the mucus into the throat so as to eject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one affected as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the shape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incrustations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produce serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts: not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane. Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled, on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which, in time, may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities and then putrefies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering, and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room; and there are others in which all the secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing an unpleasant feeling of dryness, heat and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fulness, heat, irritation, soreness or pai in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above and behind the soft palate. Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temple, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbits, and, occasionally, pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted, and at times assumes an exceeding fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and conjested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable, stuffy sensation in the head, and occasioning violent and prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky, or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffing quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the part, and frequent attempts to clear the throat of phlegm, producing the sound "hem," more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat, and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness, for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others; again, speak of a constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth or throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less and becomes weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility, is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times fearful, timid, agitated and inclined to drowsiness and sleep, the memory weakened and permanent impairment seriously threatened.

The mucous membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and in spite of the utmost care becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that at last a breath of wind upon the lining of the nose or throat becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse and involving a larger extent of surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat, larnyx, trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucous membrane, such as the stomach, bowels, kidneys, etc.

By the empioyment of proper inhalations in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedy at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless the disease has advanced to the chest and that both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address
